The MFLTwitterati guide

How to join or follow the MFLTwitterati!

The #MFLtwitterati is a dynamic and supportive community of language teachers, departments, consultants and organisations from the UK and Ireland who like to regularly share updates, links to resources and advice on anything and everything to do with languages and language learning. Anyone can follow the MFLtwitterati by subscribing to my list MFL Twitterers or by following the hashtag #mfltwitterati. Just ask to be put on the list. NB. Only UK or Irish teachers working in the UK or Ireland can be members. <http://www.theguardian.com/profile/joe-dale>

So what is Twitter?

- A social network started in 2006
- Users can send messages of up to 140 characters to their followers using @ and #
- Users can build their own professional learning networks (PLN) of like-minded educators by connecting with each other and sharing ideas and resources

Twitter terminology

- Tweet: a message limited to 140 characters written on Twitter

The image is a screenshot of a Google Docs interface. The main document is a presentation slide titled "Keep on track with some tip top productivity tech tips! MFL London Teachmeet - Planning the year ahead". To the left of the slide is a list of "Google Keep quick wins!" with seven bullet points. To the right of the slide is a handwritten note that says "MFL LONDON TEACHMEET" with a red squiggle underneath. On the far right is a Google Keep side panel. The top of the panel shows a lightbulb icon and the text "moment!". Below that is a note titled "for Keep" with the text "MFL London Teach meet: Planning the year ahead by Chloe Cawthorne (Teach First) and Verity Howorth (REACH Academy)". At the bottom of the panel is a drawing tool overlay with the title "Drawing tools in Google Keep" and four numbered steps: 1. Select tool, 2. Pen tool, 3. Felt tip tool, and 4. Highlighter tool. A large red arrow points from the handwritten note towards the drawing tool overlay.
